- Students who fail due to absenteeism cannot attend the final exam, make-up exam, and summer school.
- Those who attend the classes and have a grade of at least 50 average during the academic year can take the final/make-up exams.
- Students with an in-semester grade at least 45 average can enroll in summer school.

SECOND YEAR IN PREP SCHOOL

- Students who fail at the end of the first year of preparatory class education can take the September English Proficiency Exam/Student Placement Exam.
- Students who fail this exam can take one more year of English preparatory education.
- However, students who want to take only English Proficiency Exam and final/make-up exams without attending the preparatory classes for another year should apply to our Student Affair Secretary with a petition within the add-drop dates at GİBTÜ academic calendar; these students cannot attend the following summer school.

DISMISSAL FROM PREP SCHOOL

Students who fail at the end of the maximum preparatory education period (2 years) are dismissed from the program in which they are accepted. For students who have been dismissed, the provisions of the relevant legislation are applied.

EXAMS

QUIZZES

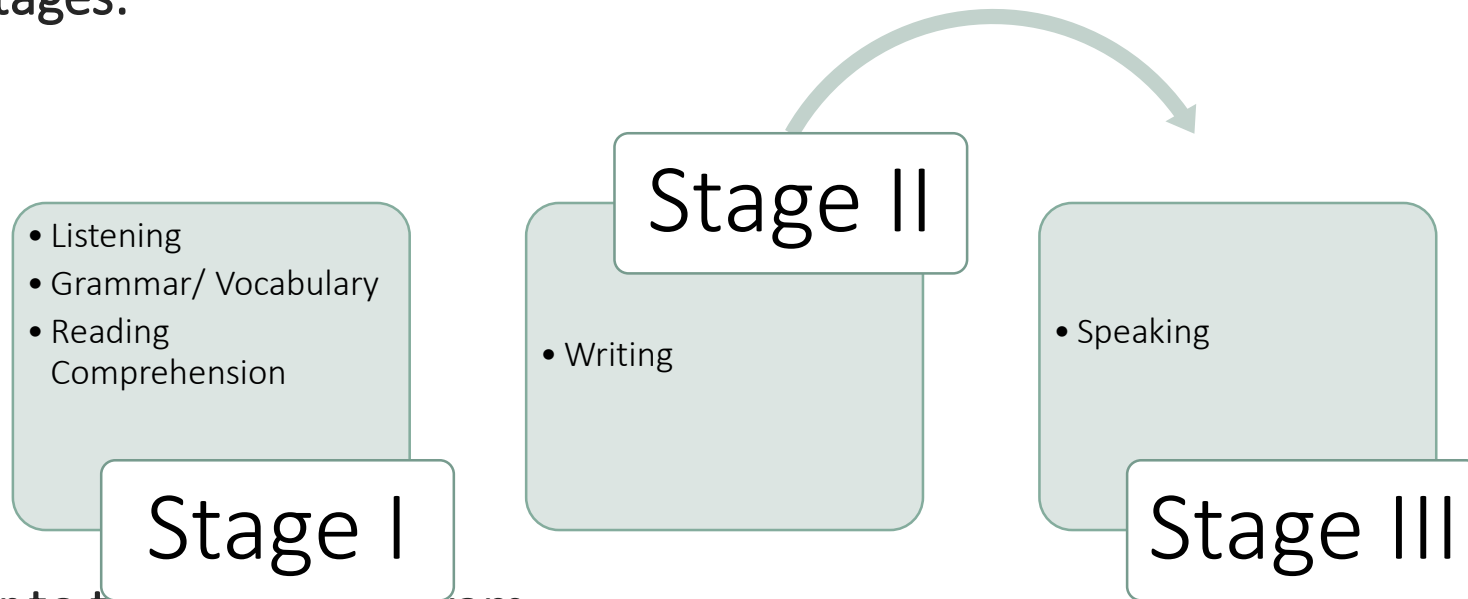

- ❑ In each module, 3-4 quizzes assessing listening, grammar, vocabulary, and reading skills, 1 of 3-4 quizzes assess writing or speaking skills.
- ❑ They contribute to the module average 20%.

MODULE EXIT EXAMS

- ❑ These are comprehensive exams that are administered 4 times a year (at the end of each module) in total and assess listening, grammar, vocabulary, and reading skills.
- ❑ They contribute to the module average 65%.

FINAL/MAKE-UP EXAM

The final/make-up exam is conducted at the end of the academic year. These exams are made of three stages:

In order to take the final exam,

- Your average grade point must be at least 50,
- You must not fail due to absenteeism.

EXEMPTION FROM THE FINAL EXAM

1. General absenteeism not exceeding 10%
2. Successfully passed each module
3. GPA 80 or higher
4. Students who meet these conditions are exempted from the final exam and can continue their education in their departments when they complete the preparation class education.

SUMMER SCHOOL
